T. WINGATE ANDREWS HIGH SCHOOL

HIGH POINT, NORTH CAROLINA

VOLUME VI

...to set in motion

It is true that learning is not all there is to education. Relating to others and sharing common experiences are integral parts of our high school experience. During the school day, many opportunities present themselves for this. Before and after school, between classes, next-door neighbors at lockers, and especially lunch periods give kids a chance to rap and relate. At Andrews, extra-curricular activities are particularly emphasized in order to provide opportunities both to share common experiences and to give service to school and community. Undoubtedly, the development of our ability to relate to others now is excellent preparation for our future endeavors.

Theme

A cap, a gown, a diploma . . . do these represent the end of an education? Not at all, for high school, and specifically, Andrews, is merely a stepping stone, an end that results in a beginning. Andrews offers preparation for a future, whether it be for higher education or for practical skills which may be put to use immediately following graduation. Our high school experience is an intermediate step, a temporary stage in our total development. And while the learning process never comes to an end, Andrews is a step in the right direction.

...to proceed in the right direction

Theme

...a progressive development toward a particular conclusion

This year, Andrews has had its share of cranes, bricks, drills, and mess. In an effort to better serve the demands of a growing student body, additional facilities are being constructed for the use of Andrews students. These additions will include a beautiful new auditorium, new classrooms, and new facilities for bricklaying and auto mechanics. We can duly be proud of the new, modern facilities that provide a healthy environment in which to further our education.

...to prompt action

What do you do from one summer to the next? If you are a typical Andrews student, you probably participate in either Homecoming or club activities or school assemblies or football or baseball or any one of the many academic, sports-oriented, or just plain 'ole fun activities that go on throughout the year here at Andrews. Getting yourself and others involved in various activities does make the school year both enjoyable and memorable.

The Summer of '73

The band practices during the summer on a hot note.

Wesley Cashwell, Steve Weatherman, Bobby Green, and Gary Deal represented Andrews in Boys' State.

Melinda Jester was Andrews' representative to Girls' State.

"Catch it Ed, because you're gonna get it!"

This past summer, many Andrews students took part in various specialized activities. Those mentioned here are Governor's School, Boys' State, Girls' State, yearbook workshop, band practice, and cheerleading practice. We asked a few students that participated in some of these activities to tell us how they felt about their particular activity.

Representing those that attended Governor's School was Paula Gulledge. "Governor's school was really great. We had concerts every Saturday night where the students performed. We mainly studied the specific subject for which we attended the school. Margaretta and Elizabeth went for French and I went for English."

Others attending Governor's school with Paula were Elizabeth Davenport and Margaretta Yarborough.

Representing those that attended the yearbook workshop was Stephanie Strong. "It was fun. We had a good time. Jackie Boyd went to sleep during one of our sessions! Each session lasted for two hours, with three sessions every day. They had a really loud rock band. It blew me out of the auditorium. We went bowling at the Student Union, too."

Summer cheerleader practice starts early for Marsha Roebuck, Michaelle McDowell, Anita Dicken, Glenda Johnson, and Terry Warren.

Attending a yearbook workshop in Farmville, Virginia were: Jackie Boyd, Stephanie Strong, Chiquita Tillman, Steve Weatherman, and Theresa Delaine.

During the course of the summer, students from Andrews, notorious because of their association with the Mighty Red Raider Football Team, suddenly altered their appearance by shaving their heads. We voted each of these men various titles, based on the effectiveness of their haircuts.

Most Ferocious — Jack Powell with his amazing resemblance to the Hong Kong Cat.

Charlie Brown Award — Mike Brown received this award because his last name is Brown and his head met the standards.

The Little Lord Fauntleroy Award — Bubba Saunders received this award for his innocent and cleancut appearance.

Pooh-Bear Award — Terry Mikels resembled the most beloved Winnie-the-Pooh, for which his title is named.

Clark Kent Award — This award was given to Sammy Little because of the effectiveness of his haircut and his acting ability.

Short Hair Award — Because of Timmy Johnson's reluctant hair growth, he received this award. His hair remained shortest longest.

The club announcement board made its debut at Andrews this year.

Andrews experienced many firsts at its 1973-74 beginning. The most noticeable would have to be the construction of a new auditorium and twelve additional academic classrooms that will include science labs and a construction industry shop. Andrews also acquired a new dean in Mr. Wright, who is now an ex-math teacher. Using mathematical logic on students that cut classes must be a big help!?

New classes were also introduced this year. They were Eastern and Western Cultures, instructed by Mrs. Link and Mr. Therrell.

Also, Andrews had a new way of announcing club activities. The club announcement bulletin board made its debut as an authoritative reference for all club members.

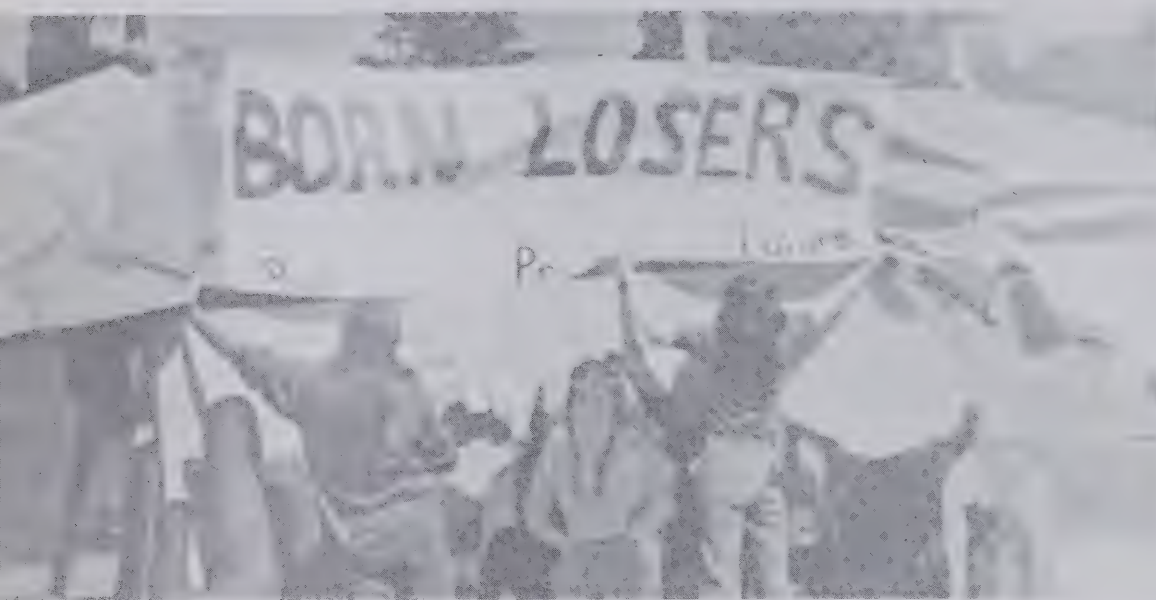

Last and by no means least, was Andrew's first "rock concert" which was given by the Spurrllows. There were varied opinions of the concert but surely it won't be our last concert.

Hopefully, the firsts at Andrews this year were only hints at the firsts Andrews is yet to experience.

The French Club received the second place trophy.

Civinettes carry out the theme for this year.

Friday, October 19, 1973, was set as this year's Homecoming. All the clubs that wished to participate in the float competition entered a float. On Friday morning floats started to come around 7:00 a.m. to the gym parking lot. All clubs vied for the first place trophy. The judging went as follows: DECA, first place; French Club, second place; Band, third place; Honorable mentions went to the GAA, Art Club, and Senior class.

This year we played Burlington Williams, a team known as the "Bulldogs". Nothing better than a real live bulldog showed up in the parking lot in a football jersey to attract everybody's attention.

This year's Homecoming was closed with a pep rally introducing the members of the 1973-74 court. The evening was great with a victory by the Red Raider football team.

The theme for this year's Homecoming was "Raiders, PAST, PRESENT, AND FUTURE."

Homecoming 1973

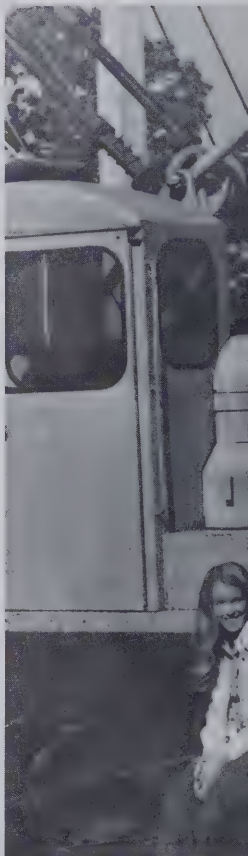

Homecoming Queen: Anita Dicken.

Maids of Honor: Terri Warren and Carol Carpenter.

Senior Attendants: Lisa Cranford, Sandy Allred, Barbara Bailey, Trina Allred, and Mickey Key.

Homecoming Court: Row 1 — Susie Glenn, Wanda Evans, Bobbie Jean Coleman, Trina Allred, and Barbara Bailey. Row 2 — Anita Dicken, Sandy Allred, Mickey Key, and Terri Warren. Row 3 — Janice Crawford, Jami Peters, and Nancy Turner. Row 4 — Martha Evans, Susan Kidwell, Lisa Cranford, and Carol Carpenter.

Those who have graduated remember their three years in high school with fond memories. In the years to come, we, too, will probably look upon our high school years as "the good old days." But the girls who were voted into the homecoming court may remember their high school years with the best memories of all. The 1973-74 Homecoming Court was elected by the Andrews student body to represent Andrews' beauty and personality. To be on the court should be considered a great honor, and this year's girls well deserved the honor that was bestowed upon them. It required a certain type of girl to capture the students' imagination and respect. By being elected to the court, these girls displayed this sort of captivation.

Our Homecoming Queen, Anita Dicken, received the honor of representing Andrews as our best example of beauty and personality. Anita participated in many varied activities and was also a good student, a rare combination. She executed her tasks with great poise and grace. She was worthy of being chosen as Andrews' "queen."

Congratulations to this year's Homecoming Court and congratulations to the student body for electing such a fine group of girls.

Hail The Andrews Champions

Trend-watchers can say what they will about what is happening to high school athletics, how school spirit is on the decline, public support dwindling and fewer and fewer caring one way or the other.

But it's proven in High Point, at least, that the trend goes sharply the other way when a winning tradition is established. If there are doubters, let them consider the case of T. Wingate Andrews High School.

Fielding a team that revives memories of great units of years past, the Red Raiders have polished off every foe this year to run up a string of 22 straight victories, and our sports staff statistics show they've lost only two regular-season games in four full seasons. That is little short of fantastic.

And if one thinks the support is missing, he should have gone out into that bone-chilling evening Friday to see the biggest Bowman Gray Stadium crowd of the season on hand to watch the Raiders wrap up another division championship.

They go now into another set of state play-offs, hoping to win again the state's most prestigious high school athletic crown. For a team that gave up only three touchdowns in a 10-game season, the prospects are bright indeed.

All of the city, no matter where its individual loyalties lie, can be justly proud of the Andrews effort. It has been tremendous, and we'll be hard put to find a better description after the state championship has been brought back to High Point again.

This year teachers decide to get into the action of Spirit . . . !

This year halls are decorated by the clubs.

Our mascot, Mary Quinn, always gives Raiders power.

Our defense has made us what we are . . .!

Football manager Greg Dockery gives aid spirit.

One puff in the morning does it for Cindy Drezner.

It's been a long day, so why shouldn't Thad Yarborough sleep instead of work?

Being wacky just comes natural to Sheila Harpe.

What I Do Is Me

"I guess I'm just a happy person," says Janice Barker.

Cindy Brown goes about getting her two cents worth in.

Most people believe or at least hope that what they do is something that sets them apart from the rest of the world: a kind of trademark.

A cross-section of Andrews' students shows just what goes on around here, and what students do to earn their trademarks.

Some people just love to run their mouths. There are plenty of that kind around this place, and some of us wouldn't mind buying some earplugs every once in a while. Others are content just to sit and stare out of a window. These are in the class called daydreamers, and they like being left alone.

Then there is that group of people totally dedicated to putting "some learning" into our heads.

Others walk the halls to avoid classes, and some just don't come at all. Some act wacky, some laugh at every little thing, and others, well others barely make it through the day.

What I do is Me

Everytime Mr. Wright turns around, Timmy Johnson seems to be checking in.

Is Robert Brown quietly thinking about Spanish or is he secretly plotting to conquer the world?

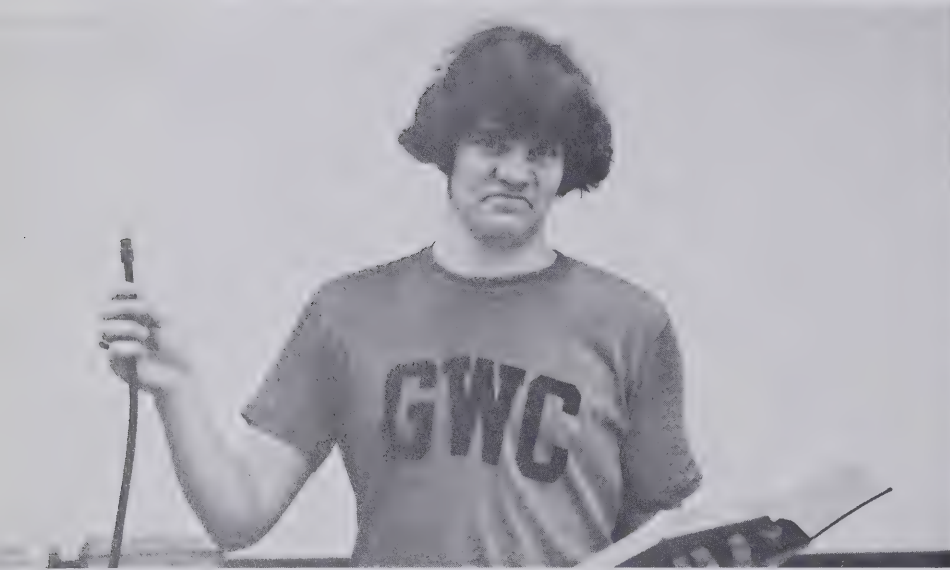

You can't go out and play, Myra Hudspeth, so stop that day-dreaming.

Hey, Bill Gurney, aren't you supposed to be in class?

Emotion Runs on a High Scale at TWA

"Why me?" growls Chuck Brawley.

"What is our theme? Smile!" says Bruce Alexander, Roger Pinnix, Chris Exline, and Mrs. Bullins.

"Ah, you did it! Now you're going to get it!" teases Darenda Rogers.

Alan Campbell and Boo Dudley embrace in a beautiful hold!

Paula Gullledge knows the inner peace of contemplation.

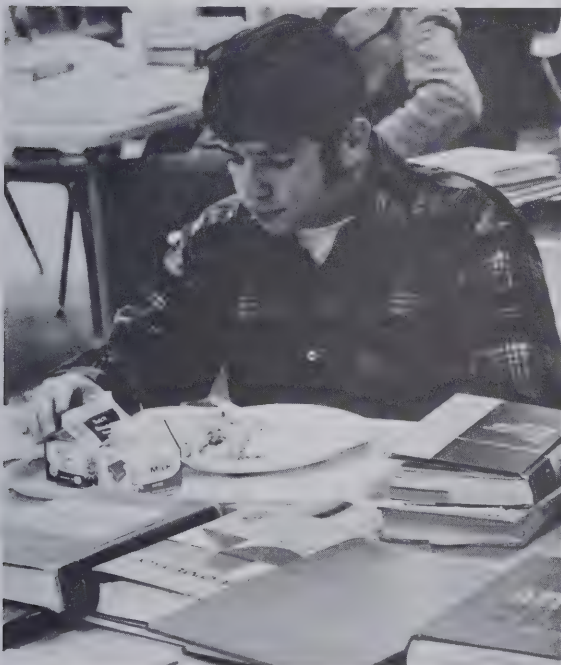

Mrs. Boswell, Coach Boswell's mother, gleams joyously among raving football fans.

"What confusion! Tell me who has the football!"

It may never be said that the students at Andrews are insensitive or unemotional. Presented here are various expressions of emotion as they were cleverly caught by our tricky photographer. It is this same ability to express emotion among Andrews' students that gives the school its marvelous spirit during football games and pep rallies. Without this spirit, Andrews could not be the fantastic school that it is.

Sometimes the day gets progressively worse, David Draughn!

Anger creates amusing expressions as Coach Boswell "confers" with the referee.

Introducing: The Super Seniors!

Carol Carpenter bears a resemblance to "The Thinker."

Time that Mary Quinn spends with friends is valuable.

Reading is one of Chris Exline's favorite pastimes.

Caught in a reflective mood, Terri Warren takes time to be herself.

Here is a rare picture. Cindy Hackler is quiet.

Andrews' favorite quarterback is Johnny Evans.

Most people know Anita Dicken for her charming personality.

Many people strive to achieve honor and fame, some striving intensely for these goals. But the people who actually achieve fame and honor are often those people who have a genuine desire to be themselves and to help other people. The Super Seniors pictured on these four pages are the type of people who like to be where they are needed by others. Their individual achievements were made in many differing activities, but all have one thing in common: they care. The Super Seniors of 1973-74 are great people. We wanted to tell them "thanks" for being the people they are.

Joni Peters, The Forum Editor, takes a minute to think about today's schedule.

Paula Gullledge, a Reverie co-editor, has exceptional abilities in organization.

ACHIEVEMENT

Getting ready for practice, Ulysses Clinton seems to be in a quiet mood.

Theresa Delaine is almost always swamped with work no one else wants to do.

Besides being a talented debator, Eric Roberts is also a member of the TWA band.

The longer you know a person, the better you know a person. That is why the Super Seniors were selected from the Senior class. The Seniors at Andrews elected the Super Seniors from a larger list of Seniors, prepared by members of the faculty.

Gary Walker spends a little time studying for a change!

"See, it's like this," says Margareta Yarborough.

As head-cheerleader for our mighty Raiders, Joni Culler gets plenty of practice yelling.

Bob Boswell — Head Coach

T.W.A. Playbook '73

"The triumphs of '72 are past history and now we must face the challenge of '73. How well we face the task depends on several factors: (1) How well we can rebuild a depleted offensive line. (2) How well untried offensive backs can learn and adapt. (3) Can we improve our passing game significantly. The great pride and tradition of the Raiders have enabled us each year to pass it on better than we received it. The great challenge of '73 lies in the hearts and minds of the young men who wear the Big Red and their ability to accept the great legacy of the Raiders."

This was said by Coach Bob Boswell at the beginning of the season. The challenge was put before the Raiders and they met it. Posting a 10-1 record, the Raiders were the only undefeated 4-A team out of over sixty at the end of regular season play. Even though Raider play did not produce a state championship this year, the pride and glory of the Raiders lived on.

Football Awards Banquet

On December 12, 1973, the annual Red Raider Football Banquet was held at the Top of the Mart. The guest speaker was Lou Holtz, the head coach of North Carolina State University.

Several awards were presented. Johnny Evans was named the Most Valuable Offensive Player. Jack Powell was named the Most Valuable Player of the defensive squad. The High Point Police Department Leadership Award went once again to Johnny Evans for his outstanding play. Greg Hill was named Most-Improved Offensive Player, while Alan Campbell received the Most-Improved Defensive Player award. Gary Walker's excellent blocking ability accounted for his being awarded the Best Blocker Award. Timmy Johnson's vivacious attitude earned him the award for Player with the Most Desire. Mike Brown was named Unsung Hero, and Ronald White was given the Terry Cagle Award for outstanding courage during the season. Sammie Little received the Head Hunter Award for his bruising tackles and persistent defensive play.

The Greensboro Daily News All-State Team included Johnny Evans and Sammie Little. Evans was also awarded the most prestigious honor ever given to an Andrews player by being named as a high school All-American.

The 1973 Junior Varsity Football Team breezed their way to the Conference Championship by winning all six conference games. The Baby Raiders fell only three times during the year, ending their season with a 6-3 record. Outstanding team members were Charlie Williams, Harold Robinson, Sam Caskey, Dale Corbett, and Johnny Miller. Many of these outstanding players will hopefully return to be even greater players on the Varsity Squad next year.

Varsity Basketball

The season for the "Red Machine's" basketball team got off to a slow start this year. This was due to some of its members being members of our football team. After Johnny Evans, Ted Brown, Greg Hill, and Steve Hamlin contributed their support and effort, there was no stopping the "Mighty" Raiders. Coach Foree's opinion of the team was that this year's team was the overall best we have ever had. He added that what made the team so good was that they were good players that played together well as a team.

After winning their first game over Lexington, three losses followed. One of these losses fell into the hands of our "crosstown rivals" Central. A long winning streak followed as the Raiders got the hang of things. Andrews got to the finals in the third annual Furniture and Hosiery Christmas Classic, but again were defeated by Central's Bison.

Willie Williams and Roger Legrande were leading scorers, each averaging above 15 and 12 points per game respectively. Leading rebounders were Roger Legrande, Ellwood Michael, and Greg Hill.

Wrestlers Carry On Winning Tradition

The look of defeat is brought to many wrestlers by Gary Walker.

Gary Walker overpowers his opponent.

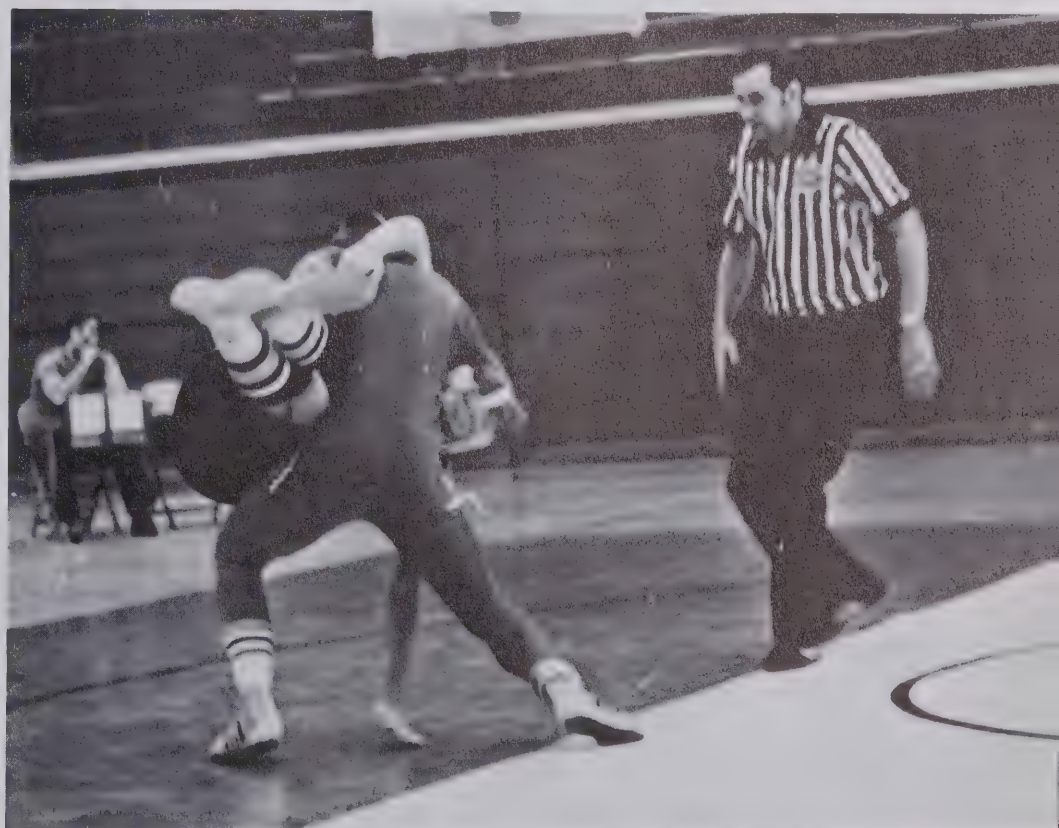

The 1973-74 Wrestling Team, as in years past, were a leading team in the conference. The Raiders were led by such outstanding wrestlers as Gary Walker, Alan Campbell, Steve Campbell, and Levander Perkins. Depth and competition were high on the team this year. The members of the team challenged each other for positions in the match. Team members could challenge each other any time during the season which began in November of 1973 and ended in February of 1974. This year the Raider Matmen participated in 18 matches plus the Sectionals held February 15 and 16 and the State Championships held February 22 and 23.

The referee checks to see if Alan Campbell has the pin.

The 1973-74 Swim Team, plagued by such difficulties as the loss of several seniors and only two returning lettermen, had an overall successful season. Mike Wasserman and Steve Weatherman, the only returning swimmers, aided the new coach, Bruce Johnson, in setting up meet rosters. Scott Lassiter and Marty Cagle aided the team by diving. The swim team participated in several meets plus the 4-A Conference Meet held March 1 in Greensboro and the State High School Swimming Meet held March 8, also in Greensboro.

G.A.A. Basketball

This year the Lady Raiders were fortunate enough to have a Varsity and a Junior Varsity team. The Varsity team played 19 games plus the Conference Tournament which was held in Greensboro. The team was coached by Miss Thomas. The captains were Flo Crosby, Almeta Perkins, and Terri Turner. Leading scorers were Almeta Perkins, Lilly Pratt, and Terri Turner. Susan Buie and Kathy Marsh led the team in rebounds. Leading the team in spiritual leadership was Patty Mellis. The girls all thought that this was an important part of the pre-game warm-ups. Leading the team this year in morale were Flo Crosby and Jackie Saunders. These two girls played an important role in leading the girls in cheers before and during the game.

The Junior Varsity team was coached this year by Mrs. Carden and led by captains Mary Quinn and Billie Wilson. Leading scorers were Billie Wilson, LeValla Nelly, and Almeta Archie. Leading in rebounds were LeValla Nelly and Mary Quinn.

Cheerleaders Help Boost Spirit

The 1973-74 Cheerleaders participated in various activities throughout the year. The J.V. Cheerleaders worked together with the Varsity Cheerleaders and sold "Booster" buttons and held a bake sale and a carwash for their money-raising projects. The Cheerleaders also sponsored the "Miss Christmas Seal" contest this year at Andrews. Their representative was Terri Warren. Both cheerleading squads were a big lift to the school spirit, promoting it by having pep rallies, decorating lockers and halls before games, and decorating the stadium for Homecoming. Joni Culler and Terri Warren served as Head and Co-Head of the Varsity Squad, and Martha Evans and Susan Ilderton served as Head and Co-Head for the J.V. Squad.

G.A.A. Spring Sports

The G.A.A. Track, Softball, Volleyball, and Tennis Teams of 1973 were all successful. Several girls were versatile enough to play on more than one team. The Track Team had a conference record of 3-0. The team won first place in the District Meet. At the Sectionals Betty Bambalis and Almeta Perkins qualified for the State Meet. The Softball Team held a conference record of 3-2. The team was the winner of the consolation finals at the Brinwood Softball Tournament. The Volleyball Team tied for second place with Central in conference play. In tennis Susan Craven won in the Sectionals and advanced to the State Meet.

1-10 Season

The 1973 Andrews Tennis Team held a 1-10 record. Their only win came against Cummings. Jim Ratliff was named Most-Valuable Player. Jim Ratliff and Glenn Lowe proved to be the team's most outstanding doubles team. The team was coached by Coach Stamey, new to Andrews last year. The team looked forward to a more successful season with many players returning this year.

Golf

The 1973 Andrews Golf Team had a successful season, winning 14th place in the state. Robin Rice was considered to be the most valuable player by Golf Coach, Bob Boswell. Jimmy Ivey had the highest stroke average with a 74. He was followed by Breck Culler with a 75 and Steve High with a 77. Many of the team members will be returning as Seniors this year, so the Golf team looks forward to another winning season.

Track

The 1973 Andrews Track Team had an outstanding season as in years past. The team won the City-County Track Meet, finishing first out of fifteen teams. The Raiders also won the Conference Division Championship for the fourth straight year. Terry Easter produced two great individual performances by capturing third in the Sectionals and fifth in the Regionals in the Pole Vault event. At the end of the season, Harold Nash was named Most-Valuable and Johnny Evans was named Most-Improved.

Baseball Team Makes State Playoffs Again

The 1973 Andrews Baseball Team, after three early defeats, went unbeaten for the remainder of the season until the second round of playoffs. The Raiders were Conference Champions, posting a 12-0 record. The overall record for the season was an outstanding 15 wins to 4 losses.

At the All-Sports Banquet several baseball team members were honored. Joe Cheek received the Golden Glove Award. Billy Sorrell received the award for having the highest batting average. He also received the honor of being named Most Valuable Player. Billy was also honored by being named All-State.

...to be active in a particular sphere

No matter what one's interests may be, the numerous academic departments, clubs, and organizations here at Andrews provide everyone the opportunity to correlate his energies and interests in a constructive way. We students of Andrews should be proud of our young administration and faculty who are continually making an effort to update our curriculum and provide us with pertinent instruction in an innovative way. Also, the multitude of academic and service clubs here at Andrews open doors to exciting, instructive, and serviceable activities to which we, as young people, can relate.

English—the unifying subject of students

"It's like this . . ."

"Come fly with me."

Mrs. Byerly does homework for class.

A look of surprise — as a Wart speaks!

Example of the perfect typist.

Once again the English Department kept students busy reading books, writing papers and taking notes. For the second year, Andrews offered English courses ranging from Myths and Legends to British Literature.

Students were given a chance to choose their classes, but there was no guarantee as to their final schedule.

Generally, this system was preferred because it offered variety in subject matter and people.

Foreign Language—A new way to communicate

Mrs. Sykes tries to be helpful.

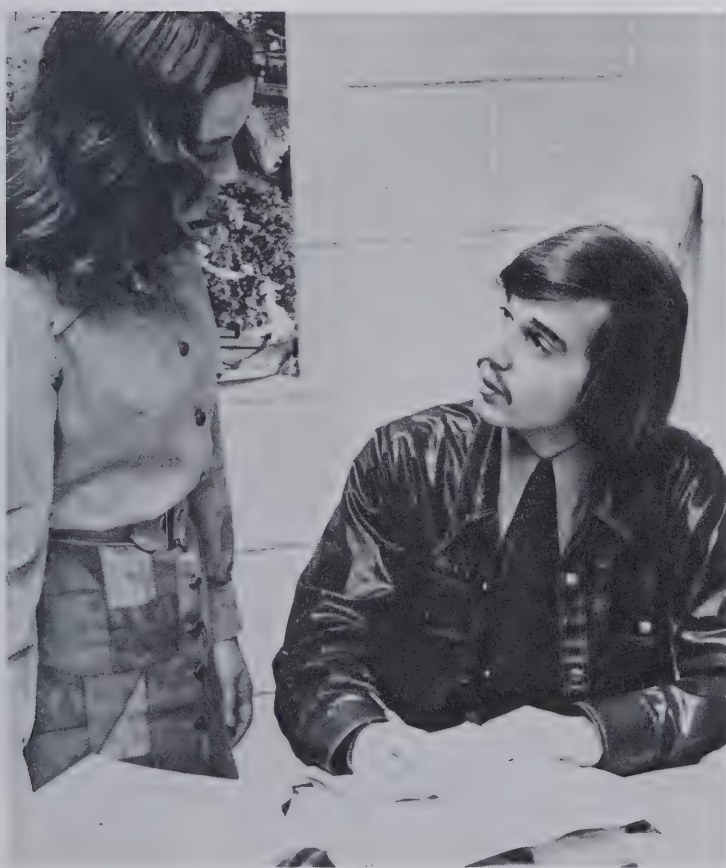

¡Qué terrible!

"Cascabeles, cascabeles . . .," sing Spanish students during the Christmas season.

"Sometimes different is better."

"Now once again, where is France?"

At TWA, the Foreign Language Department consisted of four levels of Spanish and French. The aims of both subjects were the same. Using textbooks, records, tapes, and films, this department tried to expose students to cultures unlike their own.

Spanish students produced a newspaper this year called "El Papelito", while French students worked on a poetry book.

Foreign Language Week which consisted of many activities such as dinners, films, and speakers, enriched the foreign language student. The Spanish and French clubs were also involved in department affairs.

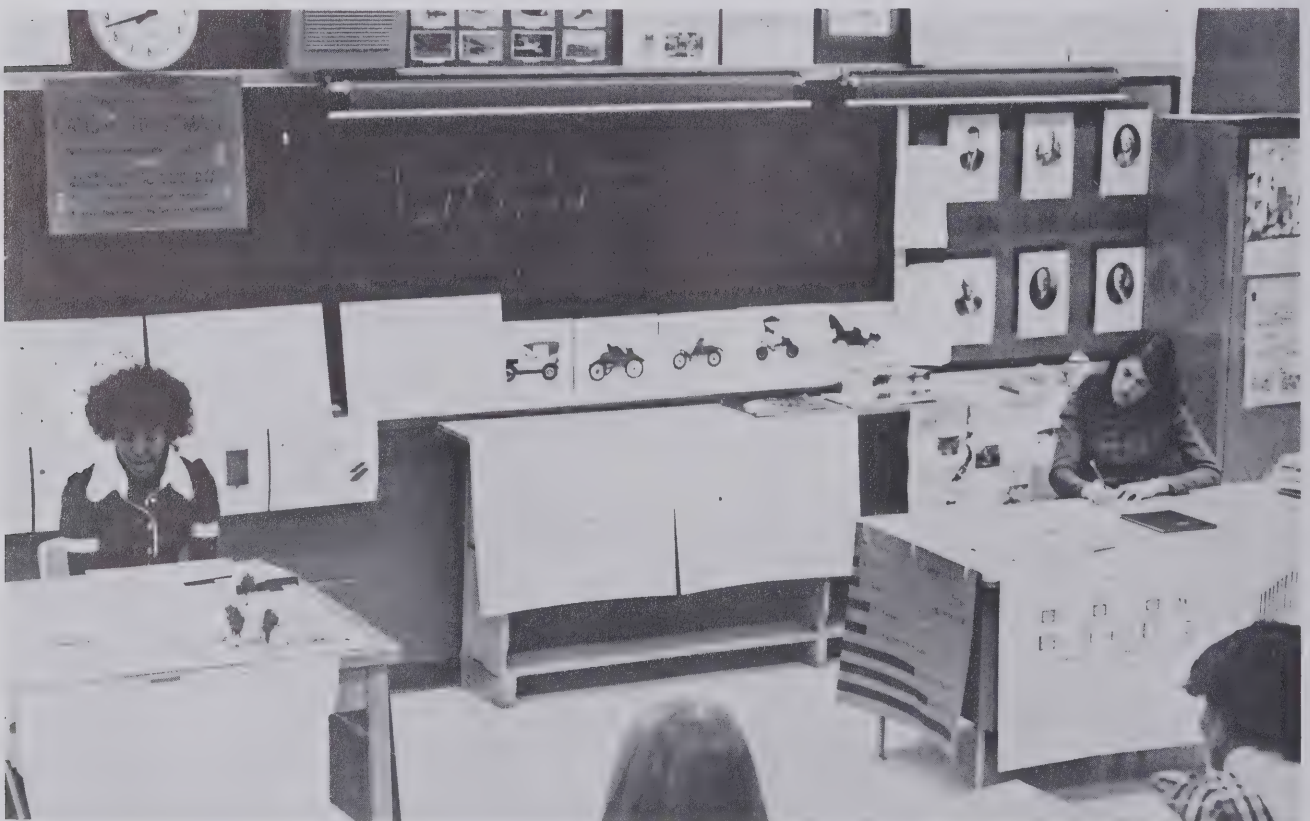

We Study the Past To Understand the Present

Deep in thought, Coach Boswell surveys the action.

"Now class, we still have a few more items to discuss."

Who is your interior decorator?

Western Cultures enjoys a talk by Elders of the Mormon Church.

Exposure to different art forms was one purpose of the new Eastern Cultures class.

Students became acquainted with different kinds of social studies this year, as new courses were added and older ones dropped. The world history class was divided into two aspects — eastern and western cultures. A variety of courses was offered, including U.S. History, Geography, Western and Eastern Cultures, Comparative Governments, Sociology, and Psychology. Headed by John Therrell, the department also included Laurel Link, Robert Boswell, Mike Lambeth, and Bruce Johnson.

Social Studies are necessary today in order for students to have an understanding of what influences modern life. By seeing the world in the light of past events and from the point of view of other people, we come closer to dealing with our own society.

Department with Problems and Solutions

Working together, Mr. Rush and his student ponder problems and enjoy it!

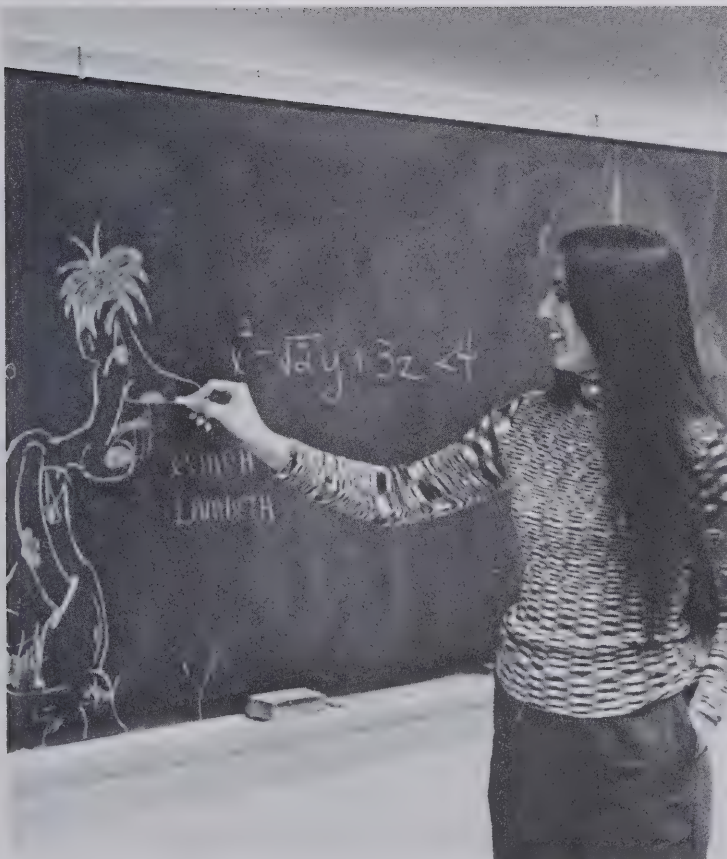

Mrs. Williford enjoys grading Math tests.

Once in awhile, smiles are found in a Math class.

"Maybe the book is wrong."

Mrs. Planson introduces a new inequalities equation.

The Math Department this year tried to develop a better relationship between the students and the subject. Each teacher worked hard to get every student to develop a sense of reasoning and most of all to do their homework.

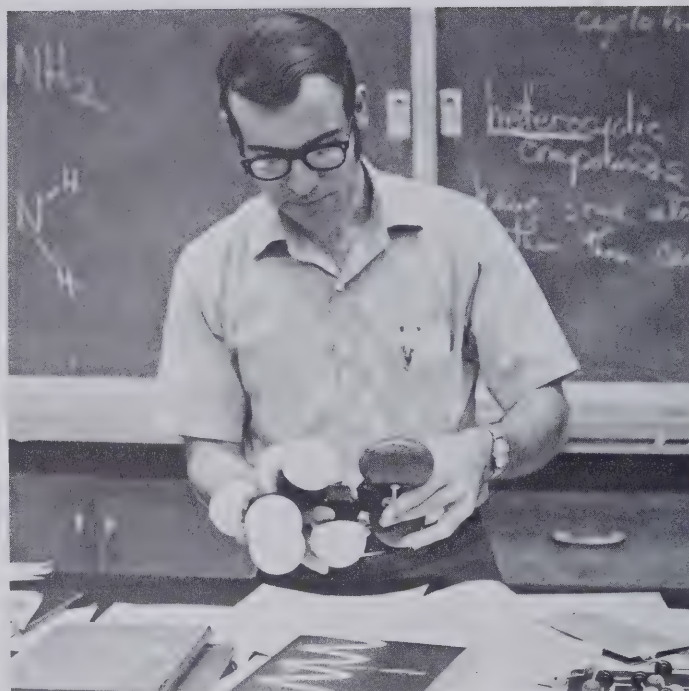

Every Friday of course was Math test day. All students were seen trying frantically to cram last minute items into their heads. It never seemed to help though.

What ever happened to re-works?

From Atoms to Rabbits

"It's a rabbit, Mr. Johnson, not a cat."

Mr. Roadhouse splits an atom.

"Are you sure this isn't cat litter?"

Where's Mr. Hyde, Dr. Jekyll?

Note-taking becomes routine in Biology.

The members of the Science Department taught students the basics in three major branches: Biology, Chemistry, and Physical Science. Headed by Murrell Johnson, the Department offered a variety of courses, including Sophomore and Advanced Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Ecology and Environmental Science, and Physical Science.

In order to reach their goal of giving students a better understanding of the workings of nature to help them lead fuller lives, Science teachers had several objectives. They encouraged research, the application of science to everyday situations, and the establishment of scientific analysis in the students' reasoning processes. They acquainted the students with many of the vocational opportunities in the field of Science.

Besides Mr. Johnson, other members of the Science Department were Charles Roadhouse, Mary Townsend, Frances Morgan, Ginger Ensor, and Steve Helms.

Music Department Provides Programs for TWA

You're not singing!

The Music Department sought to create a deeper interest in music. The Chorus, under the direction of Mary P. Browne, held several programs during the year.

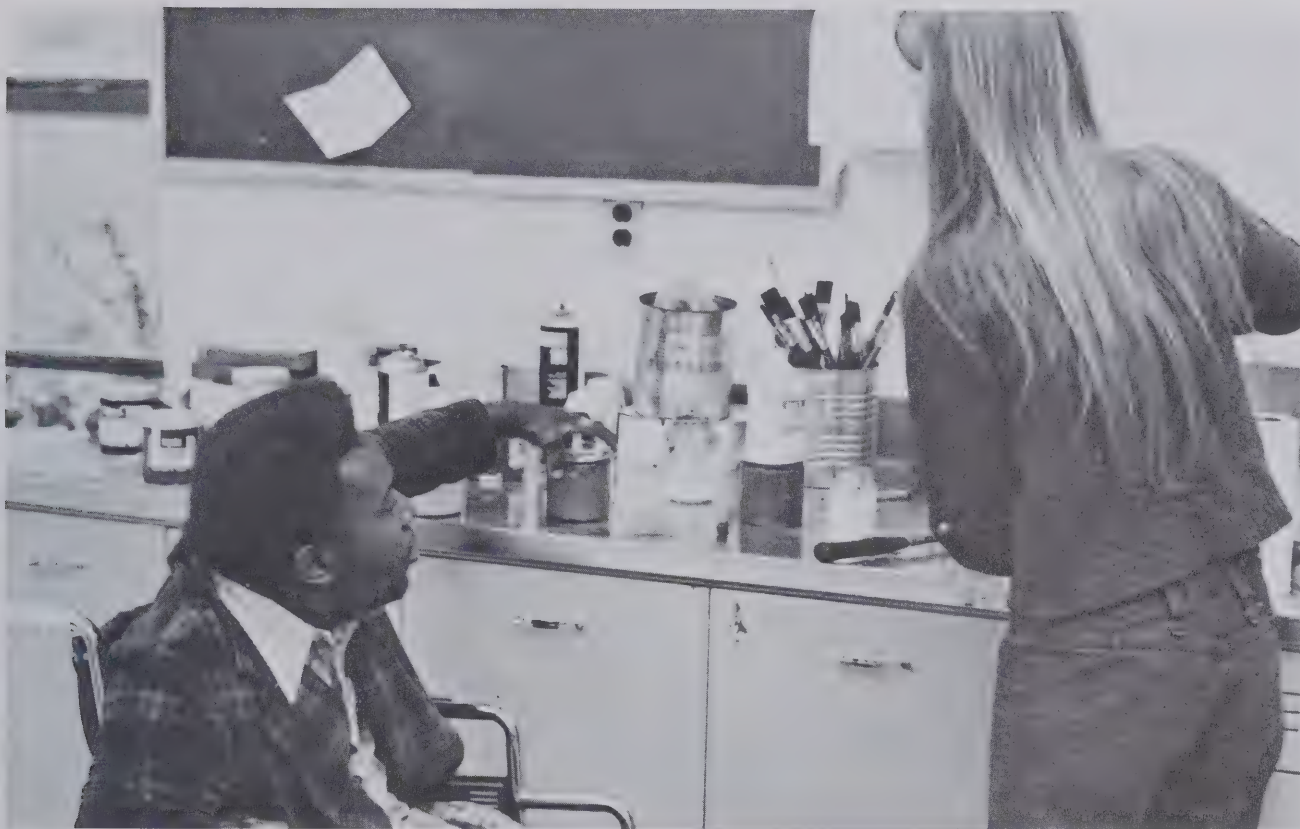

The band, directed by J. Y. Bell, was very active this year. Students had the chance to enjoy the band's music at football games, pep rallies and parades. Their biggest event was the Gimbels Parade held in Philadelphia, where they played on Thanksgiving Day.

The third musical group at Andrews was the orchestra, which was conducted by Elizabeth Fouts. The orchestra students played a variety of music during their performances.

Smile — someone's looking.

Students Express Ideas Through Art

Melodie Leckie and Johnny Archie prepare for art.

Mrs. Oliver starts the day off with a smile.

A new face was seen in the Art Department this year. Ms. Barbara Oliver, our new Art teacher, felt that the aim of an art class was "to develop a working interest and knowledge in the field of art, both in technique and in our art heritage." She sought to do this by developing each student's ability.

Use of Library Broadens Knowledge

Our librarian, Mrs. McIntyre selects books for History studies.

The muffled voices of friends, thumps of books and swishing of bodies were some of the recognizable sounds heard in our library. In this pleasing atmosphere, many students prepared the usual reports, projects and term papers. The attractive appearance made our library a resource center conducive to reading, study and research.

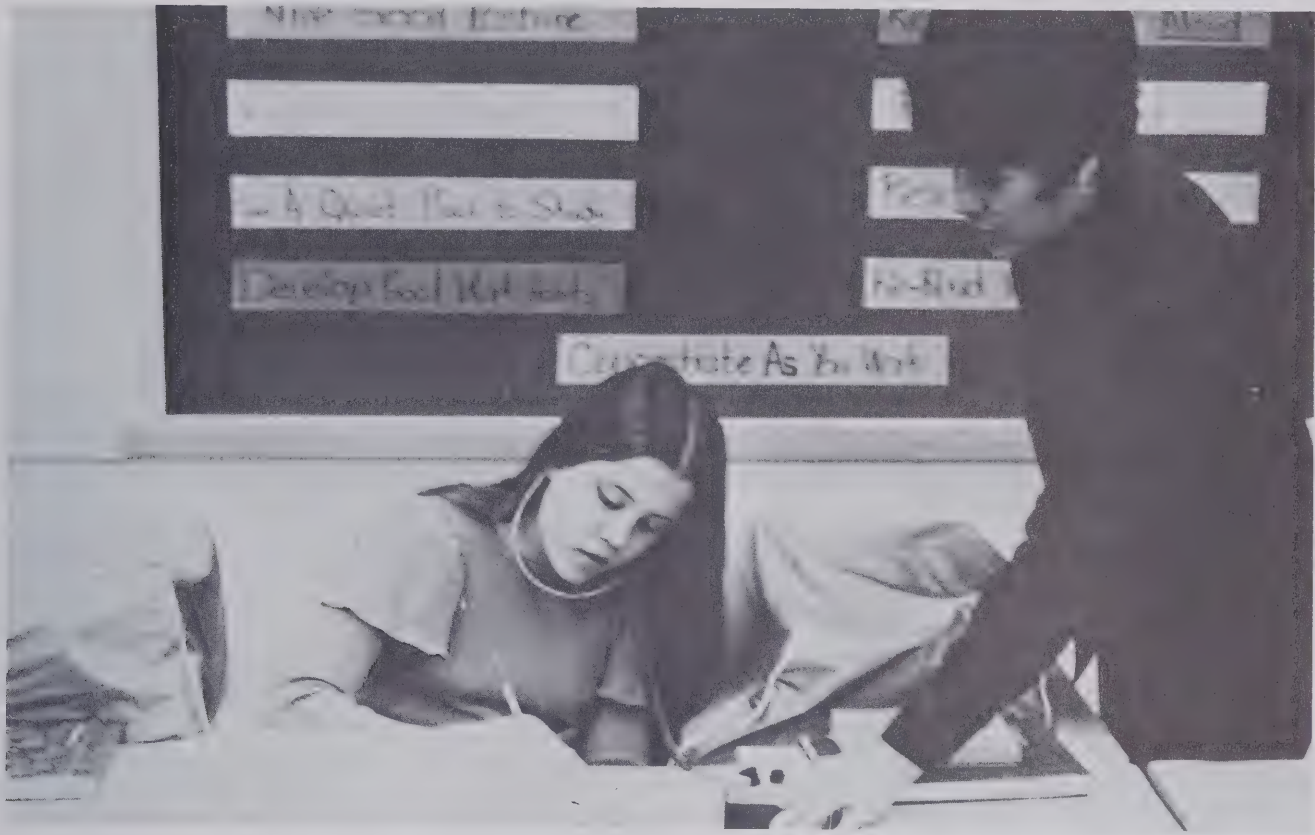

Throughout the year, new equipment, books, and materials arrived. Our librarian, Mrs. McIntyre was always willing to help any student in need. Also, our library assistant, Mrs. Kennedy was there with a friendly smile.

The library served as the center of many of our social gatherings, such as faculty meetings, induction ceremonies, and in-service courses.

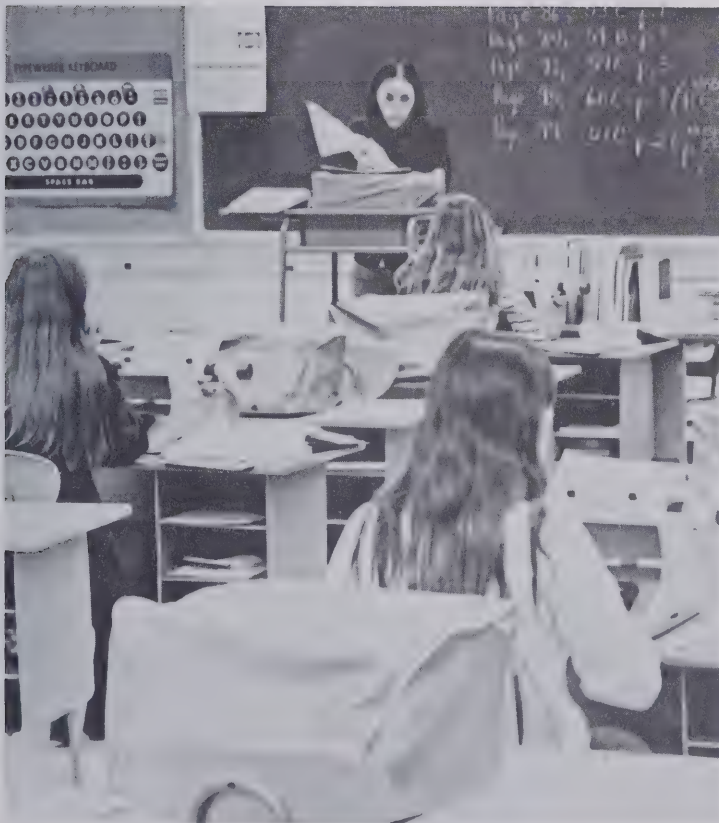

Mrs. Kennedy performs her duties as library assistant.

Business Department Produces Useful Citizens

Mrs. Chess assists in a dictation.

Practice makes perfect.

Insurance for the future? Yes, the Business Department's aim was to prepare students not only to make a living, but also to follow lines of work in which they will be happy and economically secure. For example, such courses as Typing, Bookkeeping, and Shorthand prepared many students to become useful citizens in the community. This department also included the Cooperative Office Occupations program, a cooperative program between the business community and the school that permitted students to attend classes for a half day and be employed in the afternoon. The school provided a two-hour block of instruction in a simulated office atmosphere. Four types of programs were offered: stenographic, clerk-typist, junior management/data processing, and general office clerical.

Vocational Training Gives Students a Business Advantage

At the south end of Andrews an important step was made for the Vocations Department. The new Occupational Education wing will provide additional space in which to train students in a field of business they can enter upon graduation from high school or college. Such courses as Marketing, Fashion Merchandising, Distributive Education, Auto Mechanics, Brick-laying, and Cooperative Home Economics thoroughly prepared students for a successful career in today's world.

Mrs. Erath keeps DE students busy.

Bricklaying and Auto Mechanics Skills Are Developed

Students learn the skill of bricklaying.

Three TWA masterminds in auto mechanics repair a car's engine.

To prepare for future employment, Bricklaying and Auto Mechanics students were trained in the fundamental skills of their chosen trade and in the manipulation of various tools. Such courses as Cement Finishing, Estimating, and Blueprint Reading helped students develop practical skills that will lead to a successful future.

Home Ec Teaches the Fundamentals

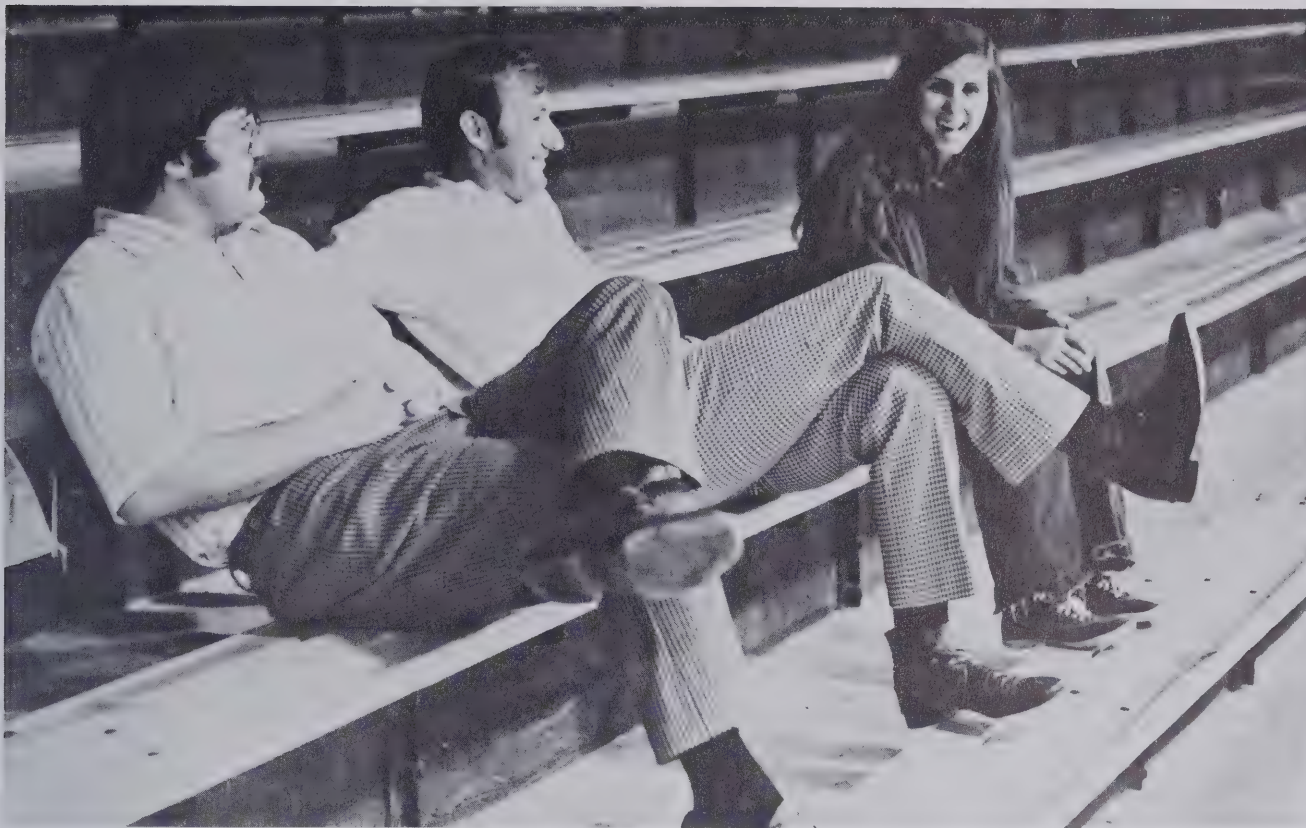

Everyone has to get into the act.

Home Economics provided opportunities to interested persons, both male and female, to acquire knowledge and develop skills in the field. These skills were to prepare them for a future in homemaking, either in the home or as a profession. Ms. Westbrook, Ms. Bost and Ms. Adams taught such courses in Home Ec as Family Life, Boys' Home Ec, Food Services and Child Development and Care.

A new breed of home economists.

Physical Education Provides Change in Routine

What sport is this?

Think of what you'll look like!

Andrews' Physical Education Department aimed to provide wholesome, healthy, and recreational programs for students. They accomplished the stimulation and development of muscular skills through many activities requiring much participation.

Nancy Hubbard — Ms. French Klub '74 reigns in splendor.

Cette année le but de la Révolution Française était de devenir meilleure et plus grande. Elle était plus grande parce que le nombre du membres était soixante-quinze. Quelques activités qui l'ont aidée de devenir meilleure étaient la construction d'un "homecoming float" qui a reçu le deuxième prix, la collection de plus que 800 francs pour le UNICEF, la fondation de la Société honoraire de française, le travail avec notre professeur étudiante, Mlle. Julie Edens, de UNC-G, qui a fait ici son stage, et faisant la bringue à la soirée de Noel et à l'excursion annuelle de ski à la montagne. Des programmes et des invités gardaient l'enthousiasme pendant les meetings nocturnes, et tout le monde a toujours trouvé l'occasion de s'amuser.

This year the goal of the French Club was to become bigger and better. It was bigger with a membership of 75 people. Some of the activities which helped to make it a better club included building a homecoming float which placed second, collecting over $200 for UNICEF, sponsoring a French Honor Society, making Miss Julie Edens, our student teacher from UNC-G, feel at home, and just having a good time at the Christmas Party and the annual ski trip. Programs and guest speakers kept interest alive at night meetings, and everyone always found time to have fun.

En este año, los alumnos del Club de Español trabajaron durísimo bajo la dirección del Presidente Steve Weatherman (Manolo), la Secretaria Vicki White (Linda), y la Tesorera Glenda Johnson (Cecilia) y la supervisión de las Señoras Hernandez y Sykes. Intentaron un acercamiento hacia los países Hispano Americanos y un conocimiento más completo de sus culturas. El Club de Español vendió botones que dicen "Sonría en Español." También se estableció correspondencia con alumnos de otros países, tales como México, El Salvador, Perú y Argentina. Trabajaron en un carroza alegórica por "Homecoming Day." El Club de Español ganó los juegos olímpicos de la semana de lenguas extranjeras en la primavera de 1973. En las reuniones del Club de Español recibimos las visitas de varias personas de otros países españoles.

Buena suerte en el año próximo y . . . olé.

This year, the Andrews Spanish Club tried to promote fluency among Spanish students and to interest them in the cultures of various Spanish countries. Led by President Steve Weatherman, Secretary Vicki White and Treasurer Glenda Johnson and advisors Mrs. Hernandez and Mrs. Sykes, the Spanish Club sold buttons that said "Sonría en Español" (that means "Smile in Spanish") and sold Latin American Pen Pals. Several members worked on a very good Homecoming float. The Spanish Club also won the Olympics held during Foreign Language Week in the spring of '73. Spanish Club meetings featured several persons from different Spanish countries.

Good luck in the coming year!

They also ordered T-shirts bearing the name of their club.

This year, Andrews students had an active voice in school affairs and functions through our student government. Under the leadership of President Mary Quinn, both Student Congress and Interclub Council sought to unify students for the betterment of all concerned. Just one example of this was the working out of a more efficient method of keeping our school grounds clean.

Student Congress was made up of representatives from each homeroom, while ICC consisted of the Presidents or some other representative from each club or organization here at Andrews.

What group of people has given up its lunch periods, weekends, Christmas holidays, teacher workdays, and part of its summer vacation to produce an accurate and interesting representation of this school year? Working for you, the Reverie editorial staff drew layouts, cropped pictures, wrote copy, bugged teachers and students alike, and had a good time getting the inside story on what Andrews is really like.

Meanwhile, the Reverie business staff got the money to make this book possible by selling ads to local businesses and patrons. They also handled the money for all fees, such as senior sitting fees and senior portraits.

NHS Inspires Scholarship, Leadership, Character, Service

Membership in the National Honor Society is the highest honor of one's high school career and represents years of diligent work and service. Qualifications for membership are stiff in order to maintain a standard of highest excellence among its members. Students qualifying for membership must have and maintain a superior quality point average in all their studies and must have been an active member of the student body for at least one year. But more importantly, members should reflect and inspire four essential qualities: Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service. On this basis, a select faculty committee recommends students for membership. Seniors are inducted in the fall, and Juniors are inducted in the spring.

Membership in the National Honor Society is both an honor and a responsibility. While membership in the Society is exclusive, Scholarship, Leadership, Character, and Service are not. The very purpose of the Society is to recognize and promote these ideals throughout the entire student body.

NHS members made Christmas happier for some needy families by collecting 1,170 cans of food from our student body. This project was done in cooperation with the Salvation Army.

NHS members worked hard this year to make it a good year for both the school and the community. Under the leadership of Mrs. Williford and Mr. Johnson, they got started early in the year by giving the teachers a reception on their first day back at the job. At the beginning of the school year, they had a phone installed in the teachers' lounge for the teachers' private use. After fall inductions, they held a "Cans for Christmas" drive to help needy families in the community. Busy, busy, busy...

Quill and Scroll Discovers Journalistic Talents

Members of the Quill and Scroll were selected on recommendations from the publications' advisors. They were considered outstanding in Journalism and worked diligently to reveal the literary talents of their fellow students. Anima, a magazine published by the club, included short stories, poetry and other literary works contributed by students of T. Wingate Andrews High School.

The officers of the club during 1973-1974 were:

President — Kim Whisnant
Vice President — Joni Peters
Secretary — Dawn Stroud

Row 1 — Joni Peters, Kim Whisnant, Paula Gullledge. Row 2 — Margaretta Yarborough, Theresa DeLaine, Dawn Stroud.

Fine Arts Promotes Interest in Humanities

A newly developed organization this year, the Fine Arts Club got off to a good start with several money-making projects and excursions to UNC-G to attend plays, art films, and concerts. The club held several talent presentations and exhibits by the members themselves during the regular meetings. The officers of the club were: Carole Stone, President; Kim Whisnant, Vice-President; Jan Weatherly, Secretary; and Nancy Hubbard, Treasurer. Under the direction of Ms. Brookbank, the club's advisor, the members endeavored to present a play. The final project of the year, and the club's major goal was a trip to New York to absorb the professional arts.

Library Club Furthers Library Careers

The Library Club wound up its second year at T. W. Andrews. Library assistants and other interested students in the field of library work labored to increase participation in school library service, interest in the field of library work and in reading books. The members also were helpful with keeping the library bulletin boards up-to-date.

Row 1 — Thomas DeLaine, Teresa Denny, Pam Osborne, Donna McLain, Rose Mary Embler, Janet Carter. Row 2 — Mrs. McIntyre, Henry Embler, Bill Williams, Greg Orcekowski, Theresa DeLaine.

Campus Life Promotes Christian Maturity

This year high school students of High Point were given the opportunity to become active in the interdenominational Christian organization, Campus Life, which is not only national but exists overseas.

Typical Campus Life meetings employed games and discussions, with the director of the group, Willy Torres, wrapping up the assembly by applying the last discussion to Christianity. On alternate weeks the insight group, those who were more concerned with Christian development and maturity, met.

This year, the Art Club flourished under the sponsorship of Mrs. Oliver, and the leadership of President, Cindy Carter; Vice-President, Sharon Liner; and Secretary-Treasurer, Cathy Dills.

To be a member of the club, one had to be an art student with at least a 'C' average.

In the spring an arts and crafts sale was held at Westchester Mall, and an Art Show was given at school. During the year the club toured Alderman Studios and also traveled to New York City.

Drama Club Tunes In On the Arts

The Drama Club was one of the many growing clubs at Andrews. It helped promote appreciation for drama. At least five times a year they visited UNG-G and saw such plays as Fiddler On the Roof. Twice a year they put on plays of their own. This year they presented Tune In On Terror and Room 222. Over the Thanksgiving holidays many of the Drama Club members traveled to New York City where they attended matinees and Broadway plays.

The Drama Club was led by Sharyn Moore, President; Ellen Rucker, Vice-President; Debbie Allred, Secretary; Brenda McCaslin, Treasurer; Henry Embler and Lillie Shacklett, Historians.

Band members not only play at half-time but they get involved in the game as well.

This year the Andrews Red Raider Band had several money-making projects. They sold ice cream and they had a paper drive. The money from these projects was used to help pay for their trip to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. There they attended the 1973 Gimbel's Thanksgiving Day Parade and several other parades. The Band played during half-time at football games.

Andrews' Band received third place in the Homecoming Float Competition.

This year's drum majorette was Dawn Lain.

Andrews Strings Combine Classical And Contemporary

Mary Quinn practices diligently every day.

The Andrews Orchestra met first period under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Fouts. The orchestra spent many hours of practice in preparation for "The Messiah" and was disappointed, as was the chorus, with the cancellation of the performance.

Fifth and sixth graders from various elementary schools enjoyed the performance of the orchestra when the musicians gave them a sample of Andrews talent.

An All-City concert was held with the participating orchestras of Andrews, Central, and the ninth grade orchestras from Griffin, Ferndale, and Northeast. This concert served as a helpful practice for the All-State Festival, which included not only the area schools but junior and senior high schools from other parts of North Carolina.

Andrews' chorus led an active school year by participating in choral festivals and giving various performances. The year was climaxed with outstanding members of the group participating in the All-State Choral Festival.

The chorus met second period of each school day and worked successfully to produce good singing techniques. As one project of the year, during the fifty-five minutes a day, the vocalists worked diligently to perform "The Messiah", but snowy weather led to a cancelled performance which was made up later in the year.

Majorettes Perform Interesting and Innovative Routines

Majorettes must be members of the band; they tried out for the six positions in the spring. Each girl was awarded points for her performance during tryouts and the girl with the highest total became chief. Co-chief was appointed by the Band Director, Mr. Bell, and the Majorette sponsor, Mrs. Bowles. The girls practiced once a week during the summer, with their sponsor during sixth period, and after school during football and marching seasons.

This year the squad became proficient in twirling fire, flags, and ribbon batons. Their other projects coincided with those of the band — Philly II, etc.

Raiderettes Add Enthusiasm to Half-Time

The main project of the Raiderettes was to contribute to school spirit. They did this by performing for the student body at football games during half-time. They had to have school spirit, the ability to learn a routine quickly, co-ordination, and marching ability. Long hours of practice yielded successful football performances. Officers were Lynn Williams, President; Alice Hunt, Vice President.

Row 1 — April Kear, Debbie Hilton, Lynn Williams, Alice Hunt, Sherry Amerson. Row 2 — Satrina Love, Kim White, Sheree Threadgill, Sandy Case, Debbie Kelly, Susan Allen.

Monogram Club Honors Outstanding Athletes

Superior athletes of the school made up the Monogram Club. Consisting of students who earned letters in one or more sports, the club distinguished itself as an "All for one, one for all" effort. Letters were earned in football, basketball, golf, swimming, track, and baseball.

FCA Adds Sportsmanship to Skill

Row 1 — Barry Perkins, Rudy Upton, Scott Lassiter, Roger Kennedy, David Draughn. Row 2 — Gary Walker, Chuck Deniso, Ronald White, Ty Pruitt, Mike Wasserman, Johnny Evans, Bubba Sanders. Row 3 — Terry Mikels, Doug Pruitt, Shane Wright, Danny Link, Jack Powell. Row 4 — Ricky Bradberry, Mike Brown, Tim Wright, Bobby Green.

These young men, selected for membership on the basis of participation in sports at Andrews, served as examples to students by demonstrating sportsmanlike conduct and Christian fellowship. Led by President Johnny Evans, Vice President Shane Wright, Secretary Bobby Green, and Treasurer David Draughn, their actions served as patterns for others, and, hopefully, the Christianlike attitude they displayed engineered the same disposition in other athletes in the school.

GAA Combines Fitness and Participation

Row 1 — Patty Mellis, Flo Crosby, Susan Buie, Jackie Sanders, Pam Gulledge, Almeta Perkins. Row 2 — Miss Thomas, Rose Ross, Cathy McBrayer, Ofelia Ramirez, Thelma Clark, Rita Atkins, Terri Warren, Terri Turner, Julia Gibson, Mary Quinn, Mrs. Carden. Row 3 — Kathy Wallace, Maggie Dawkins, Brenda McCaslin, Debbie Allred, Ellen Quinn, Amy Gerringer, Nancy Turner, Mary Harris, Lavella Neely, Terri Walker, Linda Boyles. Row 4 — Lorrie Liptrap, Rachel Coble, Dee Dee Williams, Billy Wilson, Teresa Winslow, Valeria Dumas, Angie Welborn, Sharyn Moore, Patti Elliott, Becky Williford, Carol Ann Foxworth, Mitzie Shaver. Row 5 — Vicki Roper, Teresa Billings, Beverly Harden, Anna Marie Perryman, Susan Howell, Marian Clinton, Diane Dills, Alnetta Archie, Lilli Pratt, Kathy Marsh, Debbie McLain, Bernita Lovette.

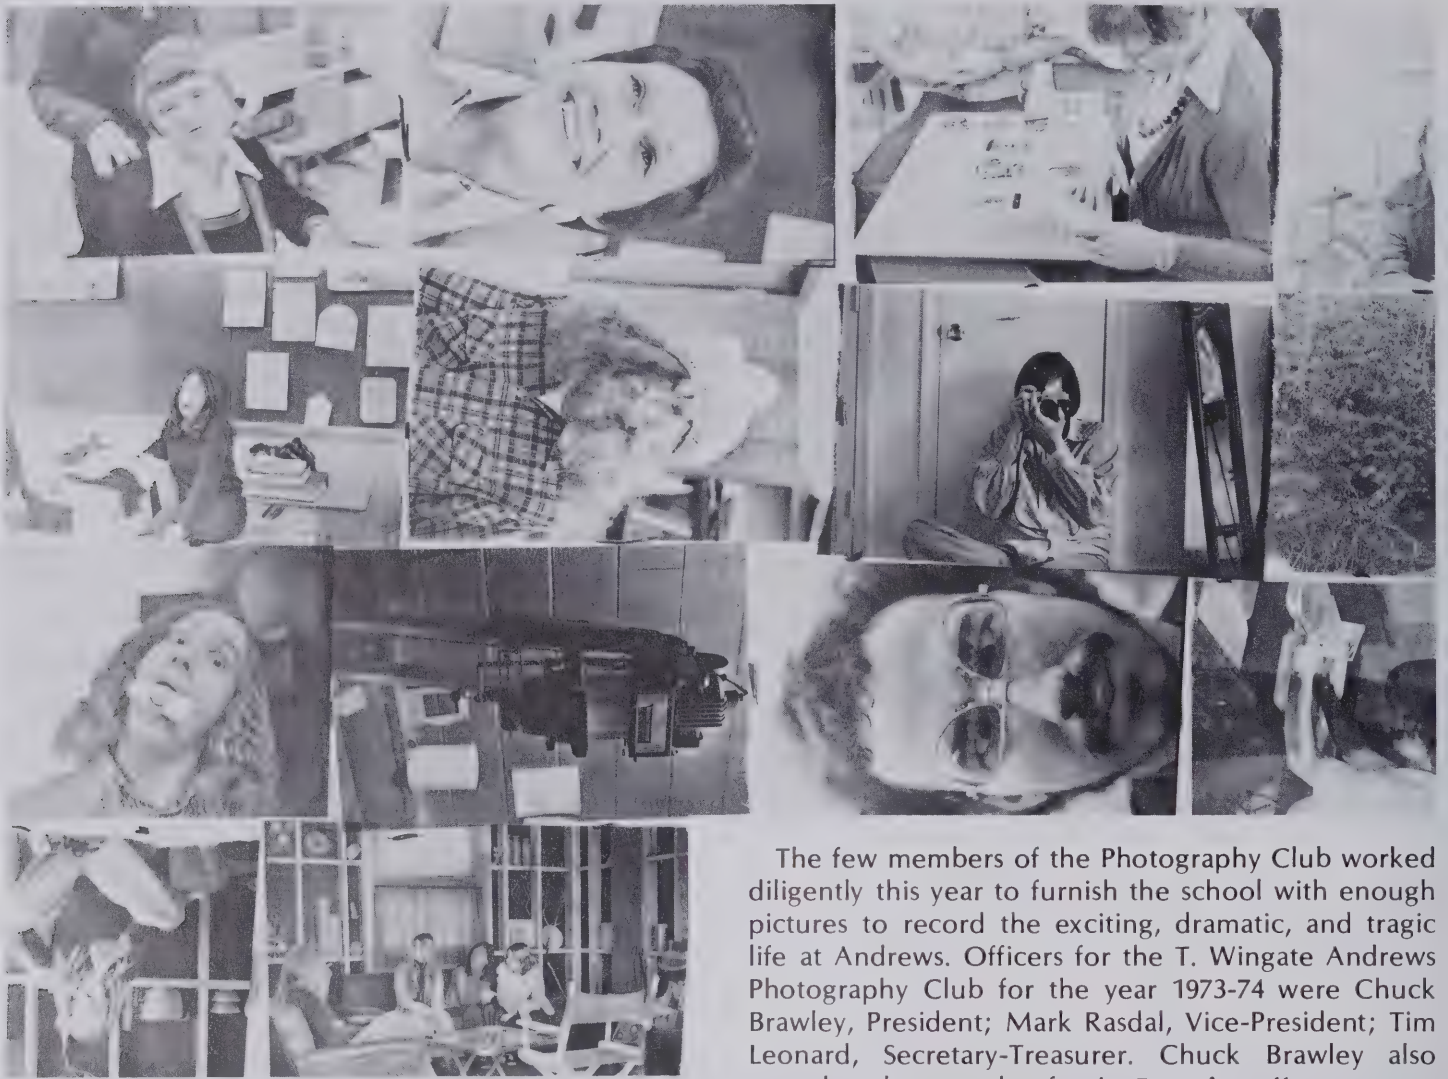

The one purpose of the Girls Athletic Association was to produce a sportsmanlike attitude among the girls. These girls enjoyed almost any sport and were willing to put forth effort and time to achieve athletic ability in these sports. The girls participated in basketball, softball, archery, ping-pong, volleyball, tennis, track, speedball, and bowling.

Photography Club Shoots Memories

Photography Club provides glimpses of school life.

The few members of the Photography Club worked diligently this year to furnish the school with enough pictures to record the exciting, dramatic, and tragic life at Andrews. Officers for the T. Wingate Andrews Photography Club for the year 1973-74 were Chuck Brawley, President; Mark Rasdal, Vice-President; Tim Leonard, Secretary-Treasurer. Chuck Brawley also served as photographer for the Reverie staff.

FHA Develops Homemaking Skills

Officers Anita Southards, President; Cheryl Beeson, Vice-President; and Patty Yale, Secretary-Treasurer continued the T. Wingate Andrews traditions in Home Economics. This year's projects consisted of teacher favors, sewing kits for home-rooms, and a Mother-Daughter Banquet in the spring.

Red Cross Goal: Preparation for Future

Being a Red Cross youth volunteer was the major requirement for membership. The club's special service project was taking care of the school clinic. Officers Robin Cook, President; Kathy Roberson, Secretary-Treasurer; and Satrina Love, Publicity Chairman executed other successful projects of the club.

FTA Seeks to Bridge the Communication Gap Between Students and Teachers

Enthusiastic students of Andrews interested in a student voice in school affairs and improvements in the relationship of students and teachers found Future Teachers of America an excellent place to involve themselves in such interests. These students promoted the teaching profession and a student voice through planning various projects such as: (1) student-teacher dialogue sessions, (2) Student Affairs Committee, (3) college visitation of the English Department, and (4) mini-course program. Club advisor, Mrs. Link, led the club in a very successful year.

Newly-Formed FSA Promotes Occupational Know-How and Efficiency

Future Secretaries of America, one of the new clubs developed this year at Andrews, consisted of young ladies interested in secretarial vocations. Their strong support of the newly-established club confirmed them as a long-standing organization and complimented the members themselves as the determined and influential secretaries they hope to become. The club sponsors were Mrs. Tobin and Mrs. Chess.

Anchor Club Sails To New Horizons

The Anchor Club of Andrews served the school day in and day out by raising the U.S. flag in the mornings and retiring it in the evenings. Besides their patriotic duties, the members of the club assisted the Pilot Club in dressing dolls for the Salvation Army to distribute for Christmas and visited rest homes during some of the lonelier hours for the residents. Patients of High Point Hospital were surprised with tray favors made by the Anchor Club.

In November, 14 girls of the club attended the Anchor Club Convention held at Trinity High School. A seminar type of program was held with groups talking about topics ranging from club yearbooks to various projects for clubs to put to use. The discussions gave the girls more insight into and enthusiasm for what can be expected with team-work from the Anchor Club.

Gale Wall, president of the club, represented the Anchors in Philadelphia at the Anchor Club Leadership Convention. Sponsored by the Pilot Club of High Point, she was one of many representatives of Anchor Clubs around the United States.

Vicki Cox puts the last-minute touches on the Civinette Homecoming float.

In serving their fellow club members, their school and their community, the Civinettes helped us to progress toward a better tomorrow. This year, they gave books to the English Department, collected money for retarded children, made turkeys for elderly people at Thanksgiving, and picked "grandmothers" to whom they could be companions in a nursing home. They also showed their school spirit by decorating our athletes' lockers and constructing a really good float for Homecoming. The Civinettes also helped the local Civitans with some of their many projects.

Interact Promotes Individual Responsibility

Kevin Caulfield, Secretary; Roy Dixon, Chaplain; Doug Burrow, Vice-President; Ed Adams, President; Cary Mullinnix, Treasurer.

This year the Interact Club, sponsored by the Rotary Club of High Point, engaged in several projects and activities that included cleaning up the school grounds occasionally, building a Homecoming float, and making a calendar that was made possible by selling ads to companies. Faculty sponsor, Mr. Roadhouse, and the club members worked together in order to develop leadership and to promote individual responsibility.

Juniorettes Jump To New Heights of Service

The Juniorettes were a club dedicated to service as they began and ended a beneficial year at Andrews. The members worked with the Junior Jaycees in collecting for the American Cancer Society. The Juniorettes brightened the High Point Hospital patients' day with Halloween bags during the holiday. Other activities were at a high peak during Christmas when the club serenaded the residents of Maryfield Nursing Home and gave out cookies, as well. Aside from giving service to the school and community, the Juniorettes promoted international understanding by giving an international dinner.

Acknowledged as school enthusiasts, the Juniorettes proved once again they still maintain a high spirit for the Raiders of Andrews. The club decorated the football players' lockers and participated in the pep rally for the Central vs. Andrews game. The club delighted everyone with decorations for the school at Christmas.

Andrews Junior Jaycees became regular salesmen this year when they found buyers for both jelly and doughnuts. The productive merchants not only spent their time building up their treasury and contributing their time and efforts to worthy organizations but succeeded in building a fantastic float for Homecoming.

Being the unselfish group that they were, the Junior Jaycees collected money at Andrews for the Cancer Fund as a joint project with the Junioresettes. Through their various activities and projects, these young men were of service to the school and community for another successful year.

Enthusiastic Keyettes Seek Service

This year Keyettes were an active group as well as being a service to those in need. Enthusiasm ran high as every girl was eager to participate in various projects. Some projects were a bake sale, helping the Jaycees by selling jelly for the N.C. Burn Center, collecting food for a family at Thanksgiving and also contributing fifty cans of food to the Cans for Christmas project.

Key Club members get a lot of experience in their chosen professions.

This year the Andrews Key Club helped prepare for a better tomorrow by forming a volunteer organization for Muscular Distrophy. For their school service, Key Club members put up a sign for the gym area. Selling doughnuts was their money-making project. The Key Club was sponsored by the High Point Kiwanis Club, and their advisors were Coaches Helms and Johnson.

Do you see new faces among both our administration and faculty? Look at those big Seniors. Why, last year they were just Juniors! And how about those Juniors. They were Sophomores last year, just beginning their stay at Andrews. All those Sophomores this year were not even here last year, but were big ninth-graders.

Both adults and young people are constantly progressing from one phase of their lives to another. However, how many of us stop to consider where we are right now?

Administration Prods Us On

Herbert Hipps
Principal

Old and new faces were seen among our school administration this year. This is the third year that Mr. Hipps has been our principal and has done a really fine job. Mr. Russell, our assistant principal, has been inspiring Andrews' students since the school opened in '68. This year for the first time, we have seen Mr. Wright, not as a math teacher, but as our dean.

The members of the city administration have a great many responsibilities. To begin with, the administration orders supplies for all schools. The media center handles films and all books that are bought for the libraries and audio visual purposes. They have the necessary job of supplying maintenance for the city schools and administration, dispersing money for expenditures, paying all bills and handling the teachers' payroll checks.

The school board is the policy making body. Their job includes seeing that state laws concerning schools are followed, setting the curriculum and establishing teachers' salaries. The board is responsible for all school property and grounds, and for the length of the school calendar. They also have the final decision on the building of new schools and additional construction for established schools.

Seniors See Through Trivia to Find Truth in Life

After all these years of waiting to be a senior, you find that when you become one nothing has changed. You're just the same as every junior and sophomore, but the difference is that you feel a lot older — and not much wiser.

Laura Eaton

Being a senior means stomping sophomores.

There is a "special" feeling that comes with being a senior. You are finally at the top — just a step away from a diploma. You don't know what lies beyond, but you are determined to continue.

Theresa DeLaine

You relish the fact that on the last day of school you can say what you've held back all year to that particular teacher without fear of injury.

Senior students become more relaxed and at ease with the school. The two hardest years have been passed and you really begin to enjoy and benefit from your high school experience. This is the last year before starting a whole new life, so we seniors enjoy it while we can.

Bobby Green

The idea that I am completing something which took twelve years has a certain amount of satisfaction. Having a mind of my own, and being able to use it, is what I like.

Dawn Stroud

The best thing about being a senior is that you don't have to repeat it.

I always thought that being a senior would mean that I would be all grown up and super smart with all the answers, but it's not like that at all. I feel like I'm just beginning to learn and see and live. Being a senior is the end of one road, but the beginning of a much longer one.

Paula Gullledge

Andrews has offered me a doorway to my future. It has taught me to reject the unvaluable and to pursue the worthwhile. This is because

I can now compare any possible situation of life to this institution of lower learning and know to reject it if it is at all similar.

Carole Stone

Being a senior means seeing sophomores make the same mistakes you did and wondering if they'll ever learn. It's coming to the almost frightening realization that you're almost an adult, and that pretty soon you will be treated as such. To be a senior is to know that your life is just beginning.

Eric Roberts

Being a senior means being closer to getting out of this place.

The main thing I enjoy about being a senior is not having to worry about seeing down the sophomore hall. (Were we that small back then?) They just don't make 'em like they used to!!

Randy Votsch

When you're a senior on top of the twelve-notch totem pole, you're almost there. Where? At the beginning of your future. Your life begins with graduation.

Steve Weatherman

It is the realization that the "Archie and Veronica Age" no longer exists, having snugly slipped itself into a corner in the past — its replacement manifesting itself as boredom, frustration, and contagious apathy.

There is much behind us, but even more before us. This year represents the culmination of all our work and all our strivings. This is our "time of glory."

Joni Peters

Seniority is an inevitable adventure . . . some may see it as a lofty pedestal, but for others . . . it is merely lofty . . .

The senior year is a relief, yet exciting, filled with happiness, but with a few regrets. I find myself wishing for the year to hurry, but I have a feeling that it is going by much too fast. It is the crossroads. This year is filled with expectations, dreams, plans, and work. It is more than I could have ever hoped for.

Seniors Move Out

Senior class officers, (l-r), Karen Simmons, president, Keith Harpe, vice-president, Carol Carpenter, secretary, and Debbie Warford, treasurer, keep themselves in the news.

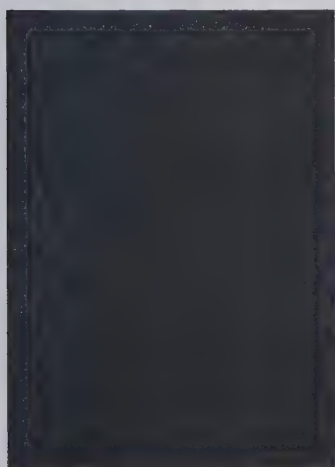

Hard work on the senior class homecoming float earns an honorable mention in the judging.

The members of the Class of '74, some reluctantly, some enthusiastically, found themselves in a new position as seniors at Andrews. Like it or not, they had to do some serious planning about their futures in colleges or in the working world.

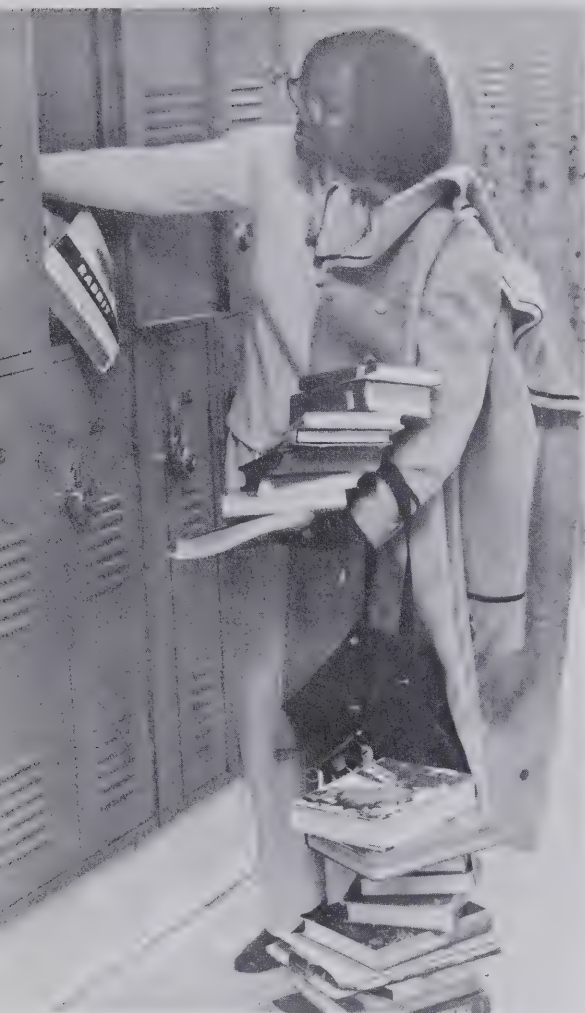

Seniors, in spite of the worries about college acceptance and other matters, enjoyed their year at the top. They showed a wonderful amount of school spirit, which was the reason the senior class won the spirit banner twice and was on its feet during every football game. Once again a member of the Andrews senior class, Terri Warren, was chosen to be the High Point Junior Miss in 1974.

Led by Karen Simmons, Keith Harpe, Carol Carpenter, and Debbie Warford, seniors made their presence felt at Andrews. They excelled in such time-honored traditions as taking the SAT and faculty-baiting. The Class of '74 spent a busy year before graduation and the next move upward.

Senior class sponsors Miss Brookbank and Mr. Arnold are always eager to help their students.

Theresa DeLaine realizes that if she's going to get anything out of high school, she'd better start learning.

MOVING ON . . . Homecoming . . . PSAT . . . classrings . . . driver's license . . . first love . . . college plans . . . SAT . . . Senior title . . . careers . . . jobs . . .

CAUGHT IN THE MIDDLE. That is what I am. Just as a middle child feels no one cares about him. I am here looking down to the sophomores, and wishing that I was a Senior. I guess that I will just have to stand it like all of the other students before me. It is not easy, and sometimes I feel like I am being smothered.

College . . . UGH! That even scares me more. This is when I feel like staying a junior and being in the middle. College means PSAT and then the big SAT. So many SAT's. What if I don't do well? What will I do? My parents are bugging me now to go to college even though I'm sure that I don't want to.

Things are so much scarier. I'm really beginning to grow up. Yet, I don't want to begin thinking about leaving home and growing up. There are too many new things coming into focus: The draft, college, marriage, and the harsh awareness of life. I sometimes lie awake at night wondering where I will be and what I will be doing in the next 10 years . . . 20 years . . . 30 years . . .?

Juniors Keep Moving

Who's that funny-looking man on the cover?

Junior wizards Mike Beazlie, Susie Glenn, Mark Jones, and Gwen Clinton produce an amazing new chemical substance.

During an hour of Driver's Education, Coach Foree remains outside the car where it is safer . . . ?

Cathy McBrayer and Amy Gerringer discuss the thrills that accompany the opening of school.

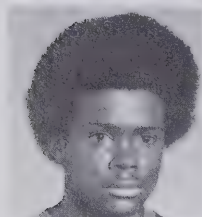

Brenda McLain is found with her usual 'fireball' in her mouth.

Rings have a special meaning . . . togetherness.

A trip abroad means experiences never to be forgotten. It means watching the Flamenco dancers in Spain, seeing the Mona Lisa and the Eiffel Tower in France, walking along the canals of Amsterdam, and sitting beside the Thames River and listening to Big Ben chime in London. It means meeting people who live an entirely different life from you, and learning that maybe your life style is not the only way.

—Sharyn Moore

Other members of the Junior class reminisced about the past year through traveling as well as through other areas of school life. Struggling through their second year in high school, the Junior class settled down and began thinking about what the future holds for them . . . They realized that they were only ONE step away from the senior title . . .

Majorette Gwen Clinton livens up half-time.

Moving Thoughts and Emotions . . .

SOMETIMES I WONDER

Sometimes I wonder how we came into being,
Not that I'm infidels,
Or in some cases we may be dreaming,
Or living in the devil's hell.

Sometimes I wonder what will become of us
In the years to come,
Whether we will have a prosperous life
Or be destroyed by the atom bomb.

Sometimes I wonder will the blacks and whites
Ever stop the marches,
Or will we ever become united
Under the churches' arches?

Sometimes I wonder will we quit being sinners
And become true sons of God,
Or will we remain sinful people
And hypocrit clods.

—Jackie Davis

DEATH

The day has come when I must go,
To rest in peace as the flowers
grow,
To sing sad songs, to sing slow
songs,
As they wipe off their tears as they carry me along.

And as they lower me into the ground,
What they say or do,
But if you all would look around,
Just think? It could be you.

The sermon is over in murmuring tears,
It's time to say good-bye,
Friends and relatives both far and near
Will remember me as time passes by.

—Charles Shannon

I sit in my hotel room, alone,
thinking hard
About what to write on my
Myrtle Beach postcard.
I'm off to a start with a
"How do you do?"
Then with the old line, "Wish you were here, too."
I write very large 'cause
there's nothing to say.
Just a P.S. of "Hope to see you in a day."
I go buy a stamp that doesn't want to stick
Then I remember, I forgot the lick.
I give a lick and slap it on hard.
And finally I mail my Myrtle
Beach postcard.

—Debbie Allred

LOOK WITHIN

Amid all the problems, paths,
and confusion
The idea of lost peace is just a delusion.

Time is spent searching outside and around.
People cry in despair for an answer.
Peace comes when the search is inwardly bound.
So my friend, please take heed
of this answer.

Turn your search to your soul,
and find out who you are,
Grab hold of the love you've within.
You'll be ready to live and to love, yes by far
More ready than you've ever been.

So now you know love, you know
life and you're free.
Won't you take someone's hand and give them light to see?

This year's sophomores worked very hard to come up with a great float for Homecoming.

Home is where your junk is.

*A sophomore's just a senior, who hasn't grown his wings;
Who hasn't learned to cut a class, to fling the wildest fling
A sophomore is just a person, like everyone around
But always there's a big mouth who will put a sophomore down.*

*Sometimes, I think it's seniors who really need the help
With all their highs and mighties they forget that they themselves
Were once a lowly sophomore, fighting down the senior's tease
But when you just remind them, they go off to shoot the breeze.*

*Now I've nothing against a senior, he's sure earned where he is at,
But let me just get some things straight, so you'll know right off the bat;
I know you think you're everything, that you're something really hot.
But I'm a swingin' sophomore and that's something you are not!*

—Garlinda Burton

Sophomores Get Moving

When it comes to Sophomores, you'll not find a more enthusiastic and conscientious group of kids.

This year's Sophomores got moving early in the year with orientation, cheerleading, and football and continued to be actively involved throughout the year with pep rallies, candy sales, Homecoming (with a "beautiful" representation), club pledging, sports (the gals, too), and a "little" work on the side, too.

Our Sophomores were ably led by their class officers: Greg Mebane, President; Roger Pinnix, Vice President; Melissa Long, Secretary; and Amy Davis, Treasurer. With the help of Miss Morgan and Coach Helms, they inspired remarkable vitality and participation among their class.

The following section contains the class of 1976's thoughts on being a Sophomore.

Where do Andrews students go when we leave school? We go to those establishments who help us pay for our yearbooks by purchasing ads. They also feed us, clothe us, educate us, sell us cars and fill them with juice, make us beautiful, sell our families houses and furnish them, loan us money, and provide a multitude of other things. We thank them for being of service to us in more ways than one.

If you're a Senior graduating from this high school, you have . . .

Been preceded by approximately 1500 seniors who have graduated from Andrews.

Been expected at school 2160 times and have been there approximately 2064 times.

Been out 168 times for holidays.

Had approximately 36 teachers.

Had 68 report cards in 12 years.

Seen 4 presidents in office.

Seen the beginning and end of a war.

Been around the sun 18 times.

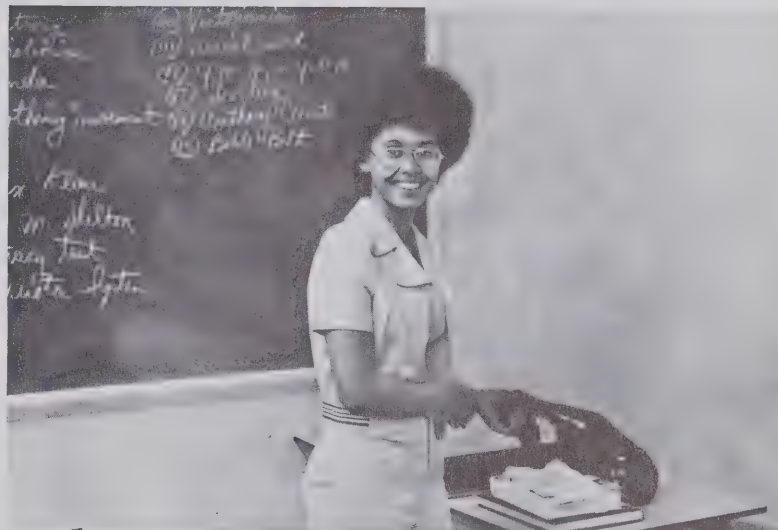

Been through about 60 pairs of shoes.

Burned up 832 gallons of gas.

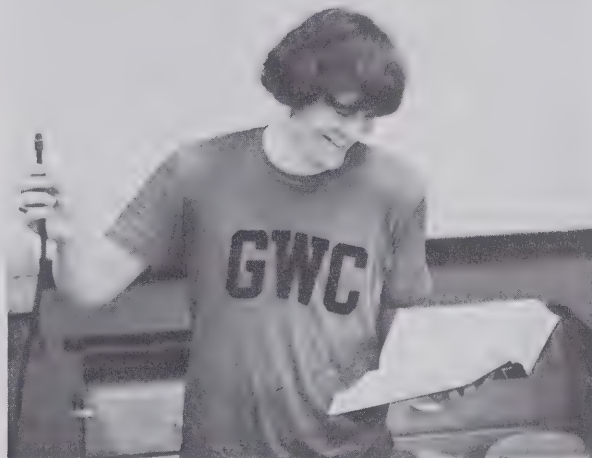

Slept 50,760 hours in 18 years.

Only just begun.

...to pass from one position to another

Where will the class of '74 be next year? A good number of us will be attending universities, colleges, and various and sundry institutions for higher learning. A few of us will be walking down the aisle of holy matrimony (Eternal Bliss?). Some of us will be toiling vigorously at a regular job. Others of us will be traveling around the U.S. of A. or abroad. The remainder of us from the class of '74 will be in the class of '75 or '76 or '77 ... (BARF).

...an action toward an end

Every time we say hello to some new encounter
we're on our way
toward goodbye.
Some distance from the actual phrase
but moving toward it all the same.
The distance between those two words becomes a little less
as we grow older.
Be aware then
that tomorrow
is only tomorrow.
There is nothing to fear
except the coming of another day.

Epilogue

Look at yourself. Where are you now? Everyone here at Andrews has changed in some way throughout the year, but the change has been your choice. If you haven't chosen to grow flowers, you've chosen weeds. And your tomorrow will be shaped by what you choose to do today. Let's get moving!

We hope that the Reverie '74 has been an honest evaluation of this school year. Many people have been involved in putting this book together. Our thanks go to:

Mrs. Betty Flythe, whose help and encouragement pulled us through;
The Editorial Staff, who found order in chaos and sought to preserve it;
Mrs. Ann Byerly and the Business Staff, who brought in the money to make this book possible;

Chuck Brawley, who contributed hundreds of photographs for the cause;
Clyde Hewitt, who supplied the beautiful picture for the cover;
Melinda Jester, who did a great job on the art work for our divider pages;
Mr. C. F. Boswell, our Delmar representative, who we couldn't have done without;

Mrs. Loraine Fairfax, who bailed us out when we got into trouble;
Our advertisers and patrons, who supported us with their funds and faithfulness;

Our administration and faculty, who encouraged us and put up with our interruptions;

Our student body, without whom there would be no Reverie '74.
